

THE RACES.

A GOOD DAY'S SPORT AT THE PARK.

A Large Crowd of Spectators—The Horses in Good Condition and Betting Lively—The Running Races Quite Exciting—Good Speed.

The second day of the races brought out another good crowd to see good sport, the running events being especially interesting and closely contested. The day was begun with the 2:30 class race, with three starters: George Vignola's s.m. Sunrise, W. P. Johnson's r.g. Phil Friele, and J. Wilett's b.k. Silkwood. The latter won in straight heats. He outclassed the others in point of speed. In the first heat he got off in front and was never headed, winning easily by four lengths in 2:28. Phil Friele paced in second place. Sunrise was never in the race, just saving her distance in each heat. Silkwood led in the second heat until he reached the half-mile post, when Phil Friele crowded up to him and forced him off his feet. The break was a bad one, and when he got down again Phil Friele was eight open lengths in front of him. He came like the wind down the straight, crowding Friele to a break at the distance post, and, passing him, taking the heat by a length in 2:26. The third heat was a repetition of the first, Silkwood leading from start to finish, followed by wire for lengths from Phil Friele. Time, 2:28.

The running races began with a hair mile and repeat for all ages, in which the starters were Chino Rauch's b.g. Idle Man, 3, 105; Harvey McLain's b.h. Typewriter, 4, 118; Kelley & Samuel's b.m. Bush, 8, 110; and M. A. Forrester's b.g. Johnny F., 4, 110. Pools sold, Susie S., $20. Typewriter set $7, field $2. When the flag went down on the first heat, Typewriter jumped away in front and never had a chance. The mares closed close to him on the turn and entered the straight head and head with him. Typewriter quit and Susie S. was coming home an easy winner when Johnnie F. made a rush at the finish and came near snatching the heat, going under the wire at Susie S.'s shoulder. Typewriter and Idle Man distanced. Time, 48s.

In the second heat Susie S. got away in front and was never headed. Johnny F. stayed with her to the first quarter and then quit. She finished easy in 48s, winner of the heat and race.

Kelly & Samuel's c.b. Ed McGinnis, 4, 118; Al. Moraine's g.g. John Treat, a, 115; J. D. Dunn's c.h. Four Aces, 3, 109, and Ben Hill's c.h. Tycoon, 4, 115, started in the last event of the day, a dash of a mile and an eighth for all ages. Tycoon had the call in the pool box, selling at $25. John Treat going second, a mite short at $22. Tycoon bringing $11 and Four Aces, $4. John Treat was a surprise to the talent. When the flag went down, Ed McGinnis jumped off in front and led around the first turn with Tycoon and John Treat at his flanks. Four Aces two lengths behind them. They ran in this order to the half, where Tycoon forged to the front. John Treat made his run on the second turn, and when he crossed the line he had a length in front of Tycoon in second place and Ed McGinnis in third and under the whip. Tycoon was also severely punished in an effort to overtake the gray horse, but he failed, and at the distance post his rider took him back, and John Treat finished first by two open lengths. Tycoon second and Ed McGinnis third. Time, 1:04.

Between the races the San Monica Polo Club entered the crowd with several exhibition polo games, which proved a very enjoyable feature. Another exhibition will be given. Friday and Saturday a special race for the polo ponies will be arranged.

A parade of the show stock entered for premiums will take place Thursday at noon.

THAT ASYLUM.

The Insane Asylum Commissioners to Meet Today.

Joseph Brown of San Bernardino, one of the commissioners to select the site for an insane asylum in Southern California, arrived in the city early last evening, and was seen at the Nadeau during the evening by a Times reporter. The commissioners have not met since their return from Ventura county, and have set today for a consultation in Los Angeles. During the night James Kerr of San Diego and M. S. Severance of Los Angeles put in an appearance, and I. K. Fisher of Santa Barbara and K. P. Grant of Ventura will arrive this morning. The consultation will be held some time during the day.

Mr. Brown was reluctant to speak much about the action which the commissioners will take, but said that they hope to settle the matter finally today. He said that he feels sure that it is the desire of the commissioners to select the best site obtainable, and he intimated that, as far as he is concerned, he proposes to do his duty as a Commissioner.

Reference being made to Gov. Waterman's action in vetoing the sites selected by the commissioners, he said that he feels that the board was selected to find a site, and it may be a question that will have to be tested, whether that was not the idea of the Legislature. The site selected in San Bernardino had been approved by ex-

Mr. Brown said that the commissioners have been importuned a good deal in this matter, and he will be extremely glad when it is settled. While he would not express himself freely, it could plainly be seen that Mr. Brown is growing somewhat restive under the repeated veto of Gov. Waterman.

The following legal opinion will be presented to the Board of Insane Commissioners at a meeting of the board to be held in this city today:

Los Angeles (Cal.), Oct. 29, 1889.

Gentlemen: We have examined "An act to provide for the erection and management of a State Hospital for the Insane to be located in Southern California," approved March 11, 1889, and are of the opinion that the five commissioners appointed by the Governor have the sole and exclusive power, and the right, to select the site for the proposed hospital. The selection of the site, subject to the quantity and advantages for health, convenience of access and general sanitary surrounding, is exclusively a matter for the commissioners to determine, it is their duty to report the cost of the proposed site to the Governor for his approval, and the only power or duty vested in the Governor relative to such location is the right to accept or reject the site, and to require a further examination or price to be paid for the site. His discretion in this matter must be a reasonable discretion, and cannot, by a fair interpretation of the act, be made a subterfuge to defeat the location of the site selected by the commissioners.

Attorney-at-Law.

COTTON OPINIONS.

This is to certify that we have carefully examined the text of that certain act of the Legislature of the State of California, entitled "An act to provide for the erection and management of a State Hospital for the Insane to be located in Southern California," approved March 11, 1889, and more especially sections 3 and 4 of said act, and that I am of the opinion that it is clearly provided that the commissioners thereto provided for shall select a site for such asylum, and that their decision is final, provided it be in accordance with the conditions imposed by the Legislature.

That the Governor has nothing to do with the selection of the site or its approval.

That the only matter to be submitted to the Governor for his approval is the cost of the proposed site.

THE TIMES-MIRROR COMPANY.

AN unusual press of matter of various sorts upon TIMES columns, this morning, has made it necessary to curtail several important reports, and to leave over others to another day.

THE KINGSTON (N. Y.) SHAFIT SAYS: "Grant county is an American county, with public schools and good newspapers, and it is almost solid against Statehood. Silver City, the county seat, shows up only three men who openly advocate the measure."

EASTERN papers complain that tax assessors are frequently bribed, indirectly, by large railway corporations to reduce their assessments, the inducements given being in the shape of passes over the roads. Several tax assessors have unblushingly appealed to the low assessment of railroad property as a ground for recognition in this way.

GEN. FRANKLIN, the Commissioner of the United States, at the Paris Exhibition, thinks the project of the world's fair in this country has been started much too late for its best success. There must be material time for assembling everything from all parts of the world, and should the money not be raised before July, 1890, Gen. Franklin thinks it will be too late.

THE recent unexampled early rains will be a God-send for the dry regions of California. The cereal crops on low and moist lands may be unfavorably affected, but the proportion of such land to that which is thirsty for rain is very small in the State. Southern California will be especially benefited by the early rainfall, and many tracts of land that have never yet been cropped will this year yield an abundant product.

FIGURING UPON THE IMPERFECT DATA RECEIVED BY TELEGRAPH, WE REFERRED TO THE PROPOSED INSANE ASYLUM SITE AT HARLEM SPRINGS AS COSTING $275 PER ACRE. IT SEEMS THAT IT IS MUCH WORSE THAN THAT EVEN, THE PRICE BEING EQUIVALENT TO $475 AN ACRE. NO WONDER THERE IS HESITATION ABOUT CONFIRMING THE CHOICE OF A SITE FOR WHICH SUCH A PRICE IS ASKED. IT IS ASTONISHING THAT THE COMMISSIONERS SHOULD UNDERTAKE TO RECOMMEND SUCH A PURCHASE TO THE STATE.

LOS ANGELES HAS WITNESSED MANY VARIETIES OF FLORAL AND BOTANICAL EXHIBITS, BUT THE ONE OPENED YESTERDAY, IN THE NEW SIMPSON TABERNACLE, IS A NOVELTY IN THIS SECTION. THE SHOWY ROSE AND THE SNOWY CALLA LILY HAVE THIS TIME TO GIVE PLACE TO THE QUINT FERN AND "OLD-FASHIONED" HUES OF THAT KING OF AUTUMN FLOWERS, THE CHRYSANTHEMUM, WHICH THE JAPANESE, WHO REGARD IT WITH ALMOST RELIGIOUS VENERATION AS THEIR NATURAL FLOWER, HAVE BROUGHT TO SUCH PERFECTION. SUCH EXHIBITIONS AS THE PRESENT SHOULD BE FREQUENT IN THIS HOME OF FLORA, WHERE THE POSSESSION OF A LOVELY GARDEN IS IN THE POWER OF THE HUMBLED CITIZEN. THE STUDY AND CULTIVATION OF FLOWERS CAN BUT EXERT A REFINING AND HUMANIZING INFLUENCE, FOR WHICH REASON—IN ADDITION TO THEIR INTRINSIC GREAT CHARM AND ATTRACTION—THESE FLOWERS DISPLAYS SHOULD BE LIBERALLY PATRONIZED BY OUR CITIZENS, ESPECIALLY WHEN, AS IN THIS INSTANCE, THE ENTERPRISE REPRESENTS MUCH LABOR OF LOVE BY GOOD LADIES OF LOS ANGELES, FOR A PRAISE-WORTHY OBJECT. OUR DESCRIPTION OF THE FAIR, FOUND IN THE LOCAL COLUMNS, IS LESS ELABORATE THAN IT WOULD BE IF WE TURNED UPON THE SUBJECT.

MINNIE MADDERN—IS UNDERLINED FOR ALL OF NEXT WEEK IN TWO PLAYS NEW TO LOS ANGELES—Caprice AND In Spite of All.

WAR PREPARATIONS AND PEACE TALK.

ST. LOUIS GLOBE-DEMOCRAT I. BISMARCK INSISTS THAT THE PEACE OF EUROPE IS SECURE, BUT THE WAR PREPARATIONS OF ALL THE LEADING NATIONS INDICATE THAT THEY HAVE A STRONG PRESENTIMENT THAT THEY MAY AT ANY TIME CHANGE HIS MIND UPON THE SUBJECT.

THE UNION PACIFIC AND LOS ANGELES.

Referring to the reported intention of the Union Pacific to extend its line to Southern California, the San Francisco Bulletin thinks that, having in view the misfortunes of the Atchison Company, the Union Pacific is more likely to build into Northern California, where irrigation, "instead of being a necessity, as in Southern California, is a matter of choice and judgment." There appears to be considerable choice and judgment on the question up north, judging from the resolute manner in which the expenditure for irrigation surveys in the State has been corralled in that section. As to the intentions of the Union Pacific we know nothing. There have been so many rumors about the company's plans that we in Los Angeles have become weary of speculating on the subject. If the Union Pacific comes to Los Angeles, it will be very welcome. Should it not come, some other company will undoubtedly take advantage of the opening up of the vast mineral fields of Utah and Southwestern Nevada, for which Los Angeles is the natural outlet.

ONE THING IS SURE, IN THIS CONNECTION. THIS IS, THAT OUR CITIZENS HAVE MADE UP THEIR MINDS TO FIND OUT WHETHER THERE IS ANY PROSPECT OF WORK BEING DONE ON THE ROAD TO WHICH LAND AND RIGHTS WERE GRANTED LAST YEAR BY THE COUNCIL, ON THE PROMISE THAT WORK SHOULD BEGIN IMMEDIATELY. THE PERSONS TO WHOM THESE RIGHTS WERE GRANTED MUST EITHER MAKE GOOD THEIR PROMISES OR GET OUT OF THE WAY, SO THAT WE MAY INVITE SOME OTHER COMPANY TO TAKE HOLD.

IT IS ANNOUNCED THAT THE HIGH SCHOOL IS TO BE BUILT ON THE CASTELAR-STREET SITE, IN SPITE OF THE STRONG AND OPENING PROTESTS WHICH WERE MADE BY CITIZENS AGAINST THIS SITE, DURING THE SCHOOL-BOND CAMPAIGN. THE GENERAL OBJECTIONS TO THIS SITE WOULD MOST PROBABLY HAVE DEFEATED THE BONDS, HAD IT NOT BEEN FOR THE ACTION OF THE BOARD OF EDUCATION IN PROMISING TO MAKE THE QUESTION OF A SEPARATE ONE, TO BE DECIDED UPON BY THE VOTERS. IT WOULD BE INTERESTING TO LEARN BY WHAT SYSTEM OF MORAL JUGGLERY THE MEMBERS OF THE BOARD CAN RECONCILE THEIR CONSCIENCE TO THIS FLAGRANT BREACH OF FAITH WITH THE PUBLIC, EXCEPT UPON THE THEORY (WHICH APPEARS TO BE THE TRUE ONE), THAT THEY TOOK THE RESPONSIBILITY OF PROMISING SOMETHING THAT THEY KNEW THEY COULD NOT PERFORM, FOR THE SAKE OF INDUCING THE CARRYING OF THE BONDS. THE COUNCIL HAS MAINTAINED FROM THE FIRST THAT THE SITE COULD NOT LEGALLY BE CHANGED.

THE SACRAMENTO BEE SAYS THAT THERE IS FEELING HERE AGAINST MR. HANCOCK, OF SACRAMENTO, WHO HAS BEEN APPOINTED SUPERINTENDENT OF THE SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA CITRUS FAIR. THIS IS NOT SO. THERE IS NO FEELING AGAINST MR. HANCOCK, WHO IS NOT KNOWN HERE. MR. LA RUE DISCLAIMS ANY FEELING AGAINST MR. HANCOCK. THE ONLY OBJECT HERE IS TO MAKE THE FAIR A SUCCESS. MUCH OF THE SUCCESS DEPENDS ON ITS IMMEDIATE MANAGEMENT. WORK SHOULD BE GOING ON NOW. FRUIT-GROWERS WILL SOON CONTRACT THEIR FRUIT AND SHOULD BE MADE ACQUAINTED WITH THE DETAILS OF THE FAIR, SO THAT THEY CAN RESERVE FRUIT FOR THE EXHIBIT. MR. HANCOCK IS NECESSARILY UNACQUAINTED WITH LOCAL AFFAIRS, AND THIS MUST, OF COURSE, IN A MEASURE, LESSEN HIS INFLUENCE FOR GOOD. HE THINKS THERE IS ANY PERSONAL FEELING AGAINST HIM IN THIS CONNECTION.

"NINE-TENTHS OF THE INTELLIGENT AMERICAN VOTERS IN SOUTHERN NEW MEXICO WILL VOTE AGAINST STATEHOOD," SAYS THE SILVER CITY (N. M.) WHEN THE PEOPLE BECOME EDUCATED, AND A MAJORITY OF THE VOTERS CAN, ON COMING TO THE POLLS, TELL WHAT THEY ARE THERE FOR, THEN, AND NOT TILL THEN, ARE WE PREPARED FOR STATE GOVERNMENT."

CHRYSANTEMUM.

THE FAIR OPENS UNDER FAVORABLE AUSPICES.

The Church crowded with the Youth and Beauty of Los Angeles—A neat little programme carried out by the Ladies—Today's Programme.

The Chrysanthemum Fair, given by the ladies of the Simpson M. E. Church at the Tabernacle on Hope street, opened last evening. All day yesterday the various committees of ladies were busily engaged in receiving and arranging plants, and when the doors opened last evening nearly everything was in place. The auditorium is very large, the building being densely packed until 10 o'clock by the representative business men and society people of this city. Chrysanthemums, dahlias and other fall flowers almost hid from view the woodwork on the booths, while the main floor of the auditorium was arranged with the floral beauties in fan shapes. The stage, about 48 feet in width, was most tastefully decorated. At the rear of the stage are series of scenes, covered with English ivy and hung with baskets filled with growing plants, amongst which had been placed a number of incandescent electric lights, had been erected. The openings to the front of the stage were higher and wider than those at the rear, and the general appearance of the work gave one the impression that the arches were much larger and extended a greater distance than in reality they did. They served as entrances for the participants in the programme, and a person made an entrance on the stage the effect spoken of could be readily seen. Running the entire length of the front of the stage is a bed of about four feet in width, which is divided into seven compartments. Each of these compartments is filled with cut chrysanthemums of every color and variety. Some into thistle, trusting to the prickles to protect them, but the tormentors cut the thorns off, and the fairies are compelled to retreat to the shelter of their fine apparel in the hands of the enemy who proceed to cut their trophies into silks. The fairies consult the stork in the Gobelin's Castle, and tell the fairies and judges what to do with the repairing and judgement belongs to the power of light, the realms of darkness. He sends them to the Temple of Truth. Patience is sent with them to the Magical Garden, and there they work in the past, the gives them their butterfly wings and steed. She finds the shorn thistle with its crown of fairy dresses too small an accident to let waste, so she charms it into a rose. The butterflies singing the chrysanthemum gives little Love an idea for a name.

White, "Faith," Miss Mary Bohler; "Courage," Miss Hattie Moody; "Night," Miss Moody; "Goblin," Mr. J. Hayes; "Love," Master Arthur Widney; "Elves," Masters Frank McGehee, and Charlie Parmaelle; "Beetles," Eugene McFadden, Russell Baxter and Aubrey Austin; "Fairies," Misses Belle Coulter, Lelia Simonds, Mamie McClung, Pearl McCollum, Daisy Anderson, Mamie Andrew, Clara Hattie Moody, Marian Churchill, Clara Allinson, Edna Lewis, Lena McGrath, Estelle McClung and Bertha Boal.

A violoncello solo by Prof. Franz Mayer and selections by Arden's Orchestra completed a very interesting programme.

This morning at 10 o'clock the fair will again open. Lunch will be served between the hours of 11:30 o'clock a.m. and 2 o'clock p.m. Additional plants and articles of the management, and anyone having English ivy and similar may oblige him by sparing some for the exhibition.

A programme for this evening has been arranged by Mrs. Hillman. A series of tableaux, representing the "Centuries, or Woman in History," will be given. The orchestra will also be in attendance, and the visitors will be as large or even larger in number than last evening. The exhibition throughout reflects credit on our city, and anyone who has worked so hard for its success. That they are likely to attain their object may be taken for granted, as they received $429 at the ticket office.

Judge Van Dyke on Baliments Before the Club Last Night.

Last night, at the usual place, Judge Wade's chamber in the Abstract Building, Judge Van Dyke lectured upon "Baliments," excluding two of the principal branches, "Carriers and Innkeepers," which will be treated separately by Judge Brunson on November 12th.

The Judge divided his subject into five branches, first suggested some hundreds of years ago by Lord Holt, who delivered the celebrated opinion which called into the family of classing law-suits, this "Baliment," which has grown to huge proportions, fostered by the exigencies of the commercial era.

The speaker spoke seriatim of goods deposited for safe keeping, loaned to a friend, loaned for hire, goods pawned, about which most students are posted without study, goods to be carried without reward, and finally, goods to be carried for reward, exhausting the subject, with the exceptions above noted.

Next Tuesday evening G. Wiley Wells lectures on "Partnership."

Modern Treatment That Cures Constipation.

According to the San Francisco dailies a remedy has been discovered that with almost certainty overcomes constipation. It is the new laxative principle in Joy's Vegetable Sanspareil. The papers are full of recent occurrences confirming its efficacy, and we give pleasure to their last sensation, a card from San Francisco well known lady mancure. She says: "I am willing to relate the following experience. I have for years had a weak stomach and was continually, and never found but one preparation that helped me and that soon wore out and lost its effect, and it was again a difficult task to find another. It helped me in every way and has thoroughly reorganized me. I had one of the most sensitive of stomachs and was in continual distress, but can with the aid of Joy's Vegetable Sanspareil now eat any and everything with my old accustomed freedom without any ill effects. I am both surprised and delighted, and gladly recommend it." CLARA MELVIN, Manicure, 13 Kearny street, S.F.

Grand Millinery Opening, At 12½ South Main street. Ladies, my store is not a palace, but I will show you hats and bonnets fit to adorn the most fashionable ladies, at half the price where you have to pay for them in New York or Boston. The most artistic French milliner engaged, and Mrs. Dosche's splendid taste in fitting the fashions you will be pleased. The second gallery is devoted entirely to visitors, and was crowded during the entire evening.

A feature of last evening was the rendition of a cantata composed by Mrs. D. P. R. Widner. The composition, which is entitled "The Birth of the Chrysanthemum," was given under the direction of Mrs. Widner, who was assisted by Mr. Churchill, and Mrs. Dyer. The piece is a very pretty one, and although neither the principals nor chorus had had the benefit of a thorough rehearsal, they gave the production in a most creditable manner. Pasadena Edition.

Times.

THE 29TH OF OCTOBER IN HISTORY.

The first man to produce readable translations of the Greek classics into modern language was JACQUES AMYOT, who was born October 30, 1513, and died 1593. Racine esteemed the translations of Amyot highly, especially his version of Plutarch, which had passed through many editions and been imitated in England.

One of the most distinguished of the Roman Catholic ecclesiastical historians, CARDINAL CESAR BARONIUS, was born at Naples, October 30, 1538. He was one of the first pupils of St. Philip Neri, who founded the congregation of the Oratory, of which Baronius became superior in 1593. He soon became professor to the Pope, Apostolic Prothonotary, and finally in 1596, cardinal and librarian of the Vatican Library. On the death of Clement VIII, in 1605, 50 votes were cast in the conclave for Baronius.

Pope, and but for the opposition of the Spaniards, he might have been elected. The Cardinal left behind him an extensive work of church history, which was republished in 1786-87 in a volume edited by Masses.

GARON II., King of England, succeeded his father, George I., in 1685, his 45th year, and was born in Hanover, October 30, 1660. He married Caroline Wilhelmina, daughter of the Margrave of Anspach. She is said to have been a woman of uncommon attainments in literature, theology and politics, and her death in 1737 was reckoned a public loss. The King himself did not aspire to a career of arms different from his father's, nor to any intellectual accomplishments except those of a soldier. He was present at the battle of Dettingen in 1743, and with the assistance of the Earl of Stair, he gained the victory.

George II. died 25th of October, 1760, in the 77th year of his age, and the thirty-fourth of his reign. Generally, the reign of George II. was a prosperous one; according to Hallam: "The most prosperous period that England ever enjoyed, and this not least from the acquisition of new territory, than from the conquest of new fields of thought effected by Pope, Hume, Samuel Johnson, Fielding, Smollett, Reynolds, Hogarth and many others. In this reign the number of capital crimes was increased to 160, and even stealing a loaf of bread became a hanging offense. These merciless laws continued in force until long in the present century, when, as the result of the labors of Lord John Russell and other reformers, they were gradually repealed."

CHARLES ALEXANDRE DE CALONE, finance minister of Louis XVI. of France, was born January 20, 1734, and died October 30, 1802. He adopted the legal profession, held various offices, and became finance minister in 1783. In this capacity he soon gained favor among the courtiers who had complained of the paucity of Target and Necktie Calonne, though he found French finance in a deplorable state, was determined not to seem poor, gave brilliant entertainments, paid off the debts of his patron, the Count of Artois, supplied the Queen with sufficient pocket money, granted pensions and gratuities to his supporters and favorites, paid off arrears, and purchased the residences of St. Cloud and Rambouillet. His means of raising money were perfectly simple—he borrowed anticipated issue, chancery edict, and prolonged and augmented extraordinary taxation, in a style never before known. The Parliament resisted these measures, but Calonne, backed by royal authority, carried them into execution. The crisis, of course, came when people could no longer bear these extraordinary burdens, and Calonne advised a convocation of the assembly of the notables, which was opened February 2, 1787, while the aristocracy divided a florid speech upon French prosperity, was forced to confess that the annual deficit in the treasury had risen to 115,000,000 francs, and that from 1776 to 1786, the government had borrowed with Calonne's plan of reorganization, demanded from him a statement of accounts. Not being able to give this satisfactorily, he was deprived of his offices and banished to Lorraine. From thence he went to America, and remained until 1802, when Bonaparte permitted him to return to Paris, where he died in embarrased circumstances on October 30th of the same year.

On October 30, 1841, occurred a disastrous fire in the great armory or storehouse of the Tower of LONDON. The conflagration was due to the over-heating of the flue of a stove. The edifice destroyed had been founded by James II., and the whole of the first floor, subsequently employed as a storehouse for small arms, contained 150,000 stands. Calonne, during the reign of Henry VIII., there were deposited in this tower the model of a breech-loading gun, which had been neglected ever since. Had the Government at any time thought fit to make use of this weapon the musk-loading guns of other countries would have been useless playthings and the military power of England would have been made irresistible.

WIT AND HUMOR.

"Beastly weather, isn't it?" "Yes—rain cats and dogs all day!" [Time.]

First doctor: "Did old Coupon's case yield to your treatment?"

Second doctor: "It did—something like $1000." —[Time.]

"Are Jones and Briggs friends?" "Friends? No, indeed. They couldn't hate each other worse if they sang in the same church choir." —[Time.]

"Oh, he's a born debater. There is nothing he likes better than an argument. He won't eat anything that agrees with him." —[Munsey's Weekly.]

Minnie: "It is no longer fashionable to have the ears pierced." Winnie: "Then I suppose you will not be called upon to sing any more, will you, dear?" —[Terre Haute Express.]

"His French is abominable."

"Well, he does like a native of Siberia." —[Munsey's Weekly.]

Visitor: "Why, what is the baby crying so for, Freddy?"

Freddy: "Cake."

Visitor: "But the baby's too young to have cake."

Freddy: "Not 'stommy-cake.'" —[Town Topics.]

Mrs. Quizer: "You have been abroad, you say. Which, of all the sights have impressed you most?"

Mr. Neverbeen (imitating): "The clock at Strasbourg, I think."

Mr. Neverbeen: "Ah, but it couldn't compare with the watch on the Rhine." —[Town Topics.]

PROFITS STORE,
Los Angeles, Oct. 28, 1889.

It is evident that a person who needs an apology, yet we find ourselves in such a position that this one is due our patrons. Some six weeks ago we placed orders for a Gigantic 25c Sale, and the manufacturers with whom the orders were placed were sold so far ahead that we have not received any news from them.

We have received no news from them, and we find the goods not on hand in our way, and know of no speedier method of clearing than presenting them to our customers at the trifling cost of 15 cents. When doing this we are aware that by Thursday noon we will have gotten rid of the cumbersome wares, and patrons will have a valuable selection than ever bestowed. Therefore tomorrow we want our presence, we want your kind attendance to witness the best values and best offerings yet received at our hands.
